EXPERIENCE

Project Coordinator/Account Manager, LexBlog, Inc., Seattle, September 2011-September 2013
Handled hundreds of projects (blogs and websites) throughout various phases of their life cycles — from setup, strategy, scheduling, development QA, content population/editing, to post-launch maintenance. I played a key role in the launch of several large-scale projects, helped the company reach record highs in monthly launches, as well as greatly reduced overhead by researching/testing/implementing various methods to increase efficiency.

Web Editor, Montana Kaimin, Missoula, August 2008-May 2009; May 2010-May 2011
Updated, redesigned web site for student newspaper. I was also instrumental in making regular multimedia packages a priority, as well as connecting the site to Facebook and Twitter.

Arts/Outdoors Editor, Montana Kaimin, Missoula, August 2009-May 2010
Assigned, copy edited stories and designed section layout. I managed a staff of five writers, and required weekly feature spreads and in-depth coverage of campus and local arts/outdoors events.

Reporting Intern, Missoulian, Missoula, June-August 2009
General assignment reporter on city beat. I had five front-page stories and numerous above-the-fold clips in the local section. During one particularly busy week, I wrote 11 articles in four days.

Elected to a two-year term on the parish council of Greek Orthodox Church of the Assumption, a Seattle-based faith community of more than 250 families. I am a member of the church's outreach committee, and co-founder of the Young Orthodox Professionals of Seattle (a.k.a Y.O.P.O.S.).
